NAVY'S BLUE ANGELS REMOVE TWO OFFICERS

PENSACOLA, Fla.- Two officers of the Blue Angels Flight Demonstration Team were removed from the team today by the Commanding Officer, Commander Pat Driscoll. The two were removed from the team due to a loss of trust and confidence in both officers, and not due to recent allegations in anonymous letters received by the Navy. Commander Driscoll also took the action to ensure safety of flight by the precision flying team and to ensure that squadron personnel are not distracted in the face of a demanding air show schedule.
